

Trade Shows:

IEEM trade shows are high level events created to present knowledge and networking opportunities for professionals. We aim to produce the leading event in terms of both quality and magnitude.

Beyond orchestrating and producing the events, from venue selection and logistics to promotions, we create and develop up-to-date agendas on industry issues, ensuring maximum opportunities for executives and professionals to expand their understanding, to learn from principal industry experts and to network with their peers. Our clients benefit from highly targeted branding and business development opportunities with their core customers and colleagues.

Our global media network of leading Food & Beverage trade publications ensures advertising and editorial coverage around the world.
